RED CROSS VISITING NURSING

Nurses qualified as to training and experience in public health nursing and who prefer to work in a small town or rural district, may find splendid opportunities for such service through appointment as Red Cross visiting nurses.

Arrangements for a four months' post-graduate preparatory course will be made by the Red Cross for nurses who have not had the necessary training or experience.

Certain well established nursing associations are utilized as training centers for Red Cross visiting nurses, in some instances in conjunction with a university or other educational institution.

For details concerning courses and appointments apply to Superintendent, Red Cross Town and Country Nursing Service, Washington, D. C.

How many nurses will avail themselves of a University Extension Course in Public Health Nursing, if it were to be offered, the theoretical portion of which can be pursued while the nurse continues her regular occupation and the practical portion arranged for under the direction of some near-by visiting nurse association of recognized standing, during which latter period she will receive half pay? The probable cost will be fifty dollars.

Answers received at the office of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, 54 East 34th Street, New York, N. Y.

WANTED—A Visiting Nurse for general work in City of Fifty Thousand, in Middle West. Experience in social work important. Nursing standard must be that of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, or American Red Cross Town and Country Nursing Service. Further information may be obtained from Harriet Fulmer, R. N., Extension Secretary of The Illinois State Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, No. 8, So. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill.
